THE BIG BEND CAMP.

A Reminiscence of the Camp of Thirty Years Ago

The Calgary Herald says that the Big Bend mining field is the same that caused the excitement in Victoria thirty years ago. They seem to have been rediscovered by a party sent out by Dan. Mann, the contractor, and the report is that they found the fields by noticing an old mining camp which stood close by. A couple of old billiard tables and a few ruined shacks were all that remained of the mining camp of thirty years ago. It was hard to get grub to the place in those days. A steamer once ascended the Columbia to the Big Bend with provisions for the camp but it never returned and the miners got starved out. Dan Mann's party reached the place this summer and began prospecting. They located four claims and $250,000 is offered for one of them the other day. Both quartz and placer have been discovered. The quartz has reached, in the assay, 83 per cent and runs up from $600 to the ton to several thousand. The placer is paying $20 a day per man. Mr. Gordon, postmaster at the end of the track, paid $600 the other day for one 16th share in an undeveloped claim. Several Calgaryites, notably the returned scouts and teamsters, expect to go to the fields as soon as they draw their pay.

SWEPT TO DEATH.

Five Persons Carried Over the Cascades in a Nail Boat and Drowned.

On Saturday afternoon a party of five persons, consisting of James Snyder, his wife, his daughter, aged 5 years, Wm. Heffner and George Hansen, were drowned in the Cascades of the Columbia. They set out in a nail boat, or a row boat carrying nail, a short distance above the Cascade Locks, intending to cross to the Washington Territory shore. When about midstream the wind died down to a calm. The occupants had not provided themselves with oars, though it is said they had two small paddles, but they could make no headway against the current, which slowly carried them towards the rapids. The nail boat with its five occupants went over the rapids and disappeared. Early in the evening the boat was found, bottom side up, by some Indians just below Bonneville. It is not likely that the bodies will ever be found, as only one or two of the bodies of the many persons who have been drowned in the rapids in the last forty years have been known to come to the surface.

Mining in the Mountains.

It is probable, says the Montreal Herald, that the next "boom" in the Northwest will be a mining one. A short time ago rumors floated about that gold had been found somewhere on the mountains in the neighborhood of the C.P.R., and as everyone believes that there are rich quartz veins yet to be discovered in the Rocky mountains, the mention of a find arrested everyone's attention. Quickly following the first news came more definite intelligence, and private letters to parties in this city—an extract from one of which is published in a local journal, as follows: "The richest and largest quartz vein perhaps ever discovered has been discovered within the past three weeks at McCulloch creek. The vein is two feet wide, and the quartz has yielded, on assay, $20,000 to the ton. McCulloch creek is a tributary of Gold creek, which empties into the Columbia river about 50 miles above the second crossing of the Columbia. The mountain is the one which fed that creek on which such wonderful deposits of placer gold were taken out in 1859."

That the gold fever will appear in an aggravated form may be taken for granted. Where there is a McCulloch creek there are probably other creeks fed by the same mountain, and the reputation of the locality is such as to ensure a rush for the discovery of its hidden gold. And access to the auriferous region is now made so easy by the C. P. R., that numbers who would otherwise have looked from afar, and longed with such resignation as they could command, will now be up and doing. The fortunes realized in California, at Ballarat, in Australia, in Nevada, Colorado, and other places, will be remembered, and the opportunity for doing likewise will seem to thousands to be within their reach. Probably other localities will be found in valleys not yet suspected of containing this most precious of minerals, and those who have once touched gold in the now abandoned bars and quartz mines, are unremitting in their search while hope remains, and hope, even in less exciting circumstances, springs eternal in the human breast. If this find on the bend of the Columbia proves to be a rich one the old story of 1849 and its succeeding years will be repeated.

Sportsmen's Association.

The first meeting and tournament of the Sportsmen's Association of the Northwest will be held under the auspices of the Seattle Rod and Gun club, at the race track, Seattle, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 21, 22 and 23. The meeting is for the purpose of organizing an association of sportsmen of Oregon, Washington Territory and British Columbia, with the view of securing better and more uniform laws for the protection of fish and game. The sum of $1000 will be offered in prizes, divided in target and live bird competitions. The proceedings will terminate with a clam bake. The object of the gathering is laudable enough, but it would have commended itself more favorably to the public in general had the meeting been called on some other days. As a matter of policy, to say nothing of the question of sentiment or religion, a grave mistake was made in holding a portion of the tournament on Sunday.

How the Smuggling is Done.

A Chinaman named Stone, who has been a resident of Oregon for over fourteen years, and who speaks English like a native, has just returned here from a visit of a year's duration to his native land. He gives an interesting account of how the provisions of the restriction act are violated by connivance of interpreters and customs officers at San Francisco. Any greenborn of a Chinaman could have his back chalked and go ashore by paying $50, but if a merchant, presumed to be wealthy came along, notwithstanding that he was entitled to land, he was blind for every dollar that could be squeezed out of him. One McAllister, a young man born in China, and speaking Chinese like a native, is the party who conducts the business with the emigrants. He tells a man that if he is paid $50 there will be no trouble about getting ashore. If the Chinaman gives the snap away he is not credited, and as the business was carried on in Chinese there is no evidence to substantiate his statement.

A DISTINGUISHED FAMILY.

How Mount Baker was Named—The Man who First Saw It.

Almost any fine day when neither fog nor cloud obscure the view, the lofty peak known as Mount Baker, can be seen very distinctly from the city. Its snow-capped summit towers far above the mountain spurs that lay all around it, and looks down like a solitary sentinel, on the drifting clouds below. Mount Baker is a familiar object in the Mainland landscape to the northeast of the city; but if some of those most familiar with its appearance, height, and exact locality, were asked how it came to be named, it is probable there is not one who would be able to answer correctly. During a casual conversation with Mr. John T. Galbraith, of Kootenay, our reporter learned that the famous mountain was called after one of the progenitors of the Baker family, of which Baker Pasha, of the Turkish navy, Colonel Valentine Baker, who so recently earned fresh laurels in the Soudan, and Colonel Baker, of Kootenay, are conspicuous and honored members. The latter gentleman, Col. Baker, who recently purchased the Joseph's Prairie Farm, like his distinguished brothers, is a soldier, having belonged for many years to the Royal Horse Guards (blue). Among his other campaigns he passed through the terrible Crimean war with the 8th Hussars, was present at the capture of Sebastopol, and was an active participant in many of the battles that led to that closing act in the great struggle. Col. Baker afterward raised and commanded the Cambridge volunteers, a troop composed entirely of students of that famous University, with which he was connected for many years. He is also author of "Turkey in Europe," and of several works on the organization of volunteers, which have earned high commendation from English military critics. Col. Baker's great uncle, Sir Joseph Baker, was a Lieutenant under Vancouver, the distinguished discoverer of this island, and after him Mount Baker was named, very probably because his were the first white man's eyes that ever rested upon it. The Baker family, it will be obvious, has been a famous one for many generations, and the name is thus forever inseparably associated with this northwest coast. Sir John Baker, another of the ancestors, was a Chancellor of the Exchequer, under Henry VIII. Col. Baker, now in Kootenay, will locate his sons on stock ranches in that highly favorable valley. One of his sons, Valentine H. Baker, is now with him in Kootenay; another is at present with his regiment on the Afghan frontier and one is in the navy. They will engage in stock raising on an extensive scale, and being greatly pleased with British Columbia, and particularly with the valley of the Kootenay, which will probably be the finest in the province for farming and stock raising purposes when settled, it is only reasonable to expect that the influence of a man of Col. Baker's character and position will have an important bearing upon the future of the district. Englishmen of capital will be induced by his example to turn their money and their energies to the development of some one or other of the dormant resources of our country.

GUILTY HALF-BREEDS.

A Number of Riel's Followers, Plead Guilty of Treason and Felony.

A despatch from Regina states that after negotiations between the crown and counsel for the defense the following half-breed prisoners concerned in the rebellion, including Riel's council, pleaded guilty this afternoon to treason-felony: Pierre Poranteau, Pierre Garlepy, Pierre Henry, Emanuel Champaigne, Maxime Lepine, Albert Monkman, Joseph Delorme, Phillip Garlepy, Joseph Arcand, Francis Tourand, Daniel Paranteau, Andre Nolin, Mosime Dubois, Elzear Swain, Fred Fiddler, Patrice Tourand, Jim Short, Alexander Fisher, Baptiste Vandale, Ignace Poitreas, Sr., Ignace Poitreas, Jr., Piedne Vanal, Joseph Plan, Baptiste Rocheleau, Moise Vanat, Joseph Pilan, Moise Parenteau, and Alexander Coger, alias Kee-Too-Wa-Hew. Paranteau, Nolin, Swain and Fiddler were discharged. Sentence will not be passed on the others for eight days, during which time the balance of the prisoners will be tried. In the meantime, the crown counsel will urge the government to treat those who pleaded guilty leniently. Murder trials can not go on until more witnesses arrive from Battleford.

Riel has written a letter to United States Consel Taylor, at Winnipeg, asking the appointment of an international commission to get on his case, and determine as to his sanity. Father Andrea spent an hour with him, to induce him to make a recantation of Protestantism, but Riel strongly refused, saying it was his conviction, said he was resigned to die on September 18th, as his mission would be accomplished. He refused to give any information on the rebellion or other matters, as he purposed publishing a book for the benefit of his family.

Crops in Oregon and Washington Territory.

From latest reports from wheat crops throughout the great Willamette valley and the southern portion of Oregon the yield is not quite coming up to expectations. In a majority of localities the berry is reported to be smaller than usual, as an effect, it is supposed, of four extremely hot days early in July. There is nothing approaching failure, but simply a shortage of a bushel or two to the acre on the extravagant estimate of two months ago. Cutting is about three-fourths done, but grain is still in the fields in stacks. In Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory the yield has been even larger than estimates and the crops mostly already cared for. It is thought the total export surplus will not fall short of 300,000 tons.

The Canadian Pacific.

Positive assurances have now been given that the rails will be joined in October in the mountains, that only working trains will be run this winter engaged in ballasting the line, so as to have it in first-class order by spring, when the grand opening celebration ceremonies will take place. From Port Moody eastward, possibly as far as Eagle Pass the line will be operated by the C. P. R. Co. From the west trains will run as far as Calgary daily, and from there to the Columbia, if traffic warrants it a weekly passenger, mail and freight service will be given. In anticipation of the completion from ocean to ocean large orders for increased rolling stock have been given. Some of the officials will visit the coast early next month in the company's interests.

THE WIDE WORLD.

THIS DAY'S DESPATCHES.

The Wilkesbarre Mine Disaster.

Special to THE TIMES.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 11.—Further intelligence of the disaster says the fan engine that supplies fresh air to the west end mine, at Wecanoque broke, depriving the men of air. Four men have been brought to the surface dead, and four or five more are yet in the mine and cannot be reached owing to impure air.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

Just before the night shift went off duty, the fan broke; the boss knew this, and so did the men of the day shift, before they entered the mines; but notwithstanding this they went into the mine, taking a great risk. There were about thirty men in all, who were supplied with safety lamps, as it was well known that gas would accumulate. About 75 men were in the mine at the time when work began. The workmen repairing the fan were the first overcome with gas and in about an hour later the same fate happened to many more in the mine. Before the men fairly realized their danger more than twenty men became unconscious; those who could then escape did so. Superintendent John Teasdale and several of his men became unconscious and were, with difficulty rescued. Others went down, and in the face of immense difficulties, and in spite of being continually overpowered by gas, got out all but ten men, three of these brought out were dead and the other six are beyond doubt dead.

The Czar and Emperor William to Meet.

Special to THE TIMES.

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—It is announced today that Emperor William and the Czar will have a meeting shortly, but at what place has not yet been stated.

The Russian Minister of Communication is already at Warsaw, making preparations for the Czar's visit to the Emperors of Austria and Germany. The army is being mobilized to occupy different lines of railway to be traversed by the Czar, and to guard bridges and crossings. The military precautions taken last year to protect the Czar against outrages by Nihilists are being repeated on a larger scale, owing to the authorities having received information to the effect that the Nihilists in Europe have recently shown great activity and seem to have plenty of money.

The Terrible Scourge.

Special to THE TIMES.

MADRID, Aug. 11.—There were twenty-five hundred and ten new cases of cholera and 1342 deaths throughout Spain yesterday. These statistics, however, do not convey the whole truth about the prevalence of the scourge, as they are not complete. Cholera has made its appearance in Barcelona, Bilbos, San Sebastian, San Andrea, Huesca and Tolesa.

Relatives of cholera patients of many of the Spanish provinces assault the doctors, in the belief that they poison their patients.

The Archbishop of Seville died of cholera yesterday.

Gone to the Adirondacks.

Special to THE TIMES.

SARAH FORKS, N. Y., Aug. 11—President Cleveland, accompanied by Dr. Ward, of Albany, passed through here this morning en route for Adirondacks. They were met at the depot by Hon. H. D. Graves and taken to his residence, where a short reception was given, after which the party was met by Paul Smith, who will take them by stage to Prospect House, where the President will spend a few weeks.

The Wabash Railway.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The Wabash Committee have issued an elaborate scheme of organization for the approval of the shareholders. The committee express regret that they are unable to present a more satisfactory report; but they say that unless a united and determined effort be made to save the property it will fall to pieces.

The World Newspaper Succeeds.

Special to THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The World has successfully completed its task of raising a hundred thousand dollars for the Bartholdi statue pedestal. The Washington cent was sold to Miss Helen Dunoray for $130. The total amount collected was $102,606.39, which was contributed by over 120,000 persons.

The Soudan Again.

Special to THE TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—A dispatch from London to the Temps says: Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, the British special Envoy to Turkey, is instructed to offer the Porte the facilities for occupying and governing the Soudan, and temporarily some points in Egypt, but no share in governing Egypt, in return for an advance against Russia.

Cardinal Manning and the Criminal Bill.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—Cardinal Manning is about to issue a pastoral letter on the subject of the Criminal bill.

An Experienced Tourist Killed.

Special to THE TIMES.

VIENNA, Aug. 11.—Dr. Z. S. Egmandy, the experience tourist, who recently published a book on "The Dangers of Alpine Climbing," has been killed by falling over a precipice, after climbing the Pic le la Ney in the Hantes ages, which had hitherto been considered as impossibility.

A Bomb Shell Explodes.

Special to THE TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—Four French soldiers, while crossing a field at Fonsainebleau to-day, found a bomb shell. They attempted to unload it. It bursted and the fragments cut two of the men to pieces and tore an arm off another. The fourth soldier escaped uninjured.

A Terrible Explosion

Special to THE TIMES.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 11.—Information has just been received here that a terrible explosion has taken place in the West End Coal Co's mines this morning at Mocanaqua, fifteen miles from here. As far as can be learned, ten miners were instantly killed and several others were dangerously injured.

Objectionable Quarantine Regulations.

Special to THE TIMES.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 11.—The Chamber of Commerce has petitioned the government to urge foreign governments to raise the unwarranted quarantines against Marseilles, especially those maintained by Spain at Gibraltar.

KEMPSTER'S TROUBLES.

The Late Assault on Mr. T. L. Kempster at the Brickyard.

In the case of Kempster against Tibbey, before Mr. Johnson this afternoon, Thos. L. Kempster who sworn and said that on Monday morning, 3rd inst., he went to the brickyard in response to a communication notifying him that there was some trouble there. After he had been in the office some time two or three men came in, and the defendant, Tobey, came up to him in a menacing attitude and asked him: "What in the devil are you doing here?" On replying that he had come there to attend to his business, Tibbey replied, "By G—, you will get out of this," and struck him on the left cheek, then on the right, and then on the top of the head, with his clenched fist. Asking what he meant by such notions, defendant replied that he would give him more of it if he did not get out. Afterwards Captain Dyer, Mr. Williams and plaintiff's brother interfered, and prevented Tibbey from assaulting plaintiff the second time. Had given no cause whatever for the assault.

To Mr. Wilson—Have given a bill of sale of the premises but did not know at time that the grantee had taken possession. Under the arrangement made a month previous, Mr. Tibbey was there as agent to count the brick sent to the dry dock; his proper place was at the kiln and not in the office; did not know that he was there as the agent of the grantee under the bill of sale.

To the Court—The business at the brickyard was carried on by Kempster Bros.

Evidence of a similar nature was given by Messrs. C. W. Kempster and Williams and the case was then remanded at the request of the defence.

Mr. Wilson will endeavor to show that Kempster was a trespasser and that the defendant was only exercising his right to defend his employers interest.

ROBBED OF HIS PILE.

A Victorian Party Company with $175 when Jubilant.

The Seattle Chronicle says that on Thursday night or, rather, Friday morning, Benjamin Rathburn, lately arrived in Seattle from Victoria, was robbed of $175 in coin. It seems that Rathburn had been drinking some and was "taking in the town" as a preliminary to boarding the Tacoma steamer. About 3:30 he left the Esmond saloon for the dock and was accompanied by one or more persons who volunteered to see him safely aboard the boat. At the saloon he displayed enough money to awake the cupidity of any thief who might be hanging around. He carried the coin in a pocket book in his hip pocket and thinks that the parties who accompanied him to the dock, and who immediately departed the city, filched it out as he held his arm in walking. The person whom Rathburn accuses is a well known young man about Seattle and of respectable connections. His reputation is none of the best, however, and the circumstances of the affair warrant Rathburn in his suspicions. He left the city on the boat which was to carry Rathburn, and so far as the latter knows was the only person who approached him while en route to the dock.

A BIG GASH.

The Fireman of the Eliza Anderson Badly Cut in a Street Row.

The Seattle Call reports that on Sunday evening, William Esmond, fireman on the Eliza Anderson, called upon Dr. Hall, of Seattle, and had a severe cut of [illegible] inches in length, caused by [illegible] stitches were needed to close the wound which was just back of the head, and from which the blood flowed profusely. Esmond would not give particulars but it is stated that on Sunday he had $200 in coin, which two men wished to get control of, but he would not consent to allow them the use of it. They asked him to take a walk up Mill street, which he consented to. They had gone but a few blocks, when one of them grabbed him by the arm and a tussel ensued, in the midst of which the other man picked up a board or stave and hit Esmond a whack over the head with the result of cutting a terrible gash. It is presumed they then ran away, and Esmond made for a drug store. He is very reticent about the affair; does not seem to want the men arrested, and is evidently holding back the main facts in the matter.

Returning Chinamen.

The Chinamen referred to in last evening's TIMES as having been returned on the Olympian by the Port Townsend authorities, went across the straits in a small boat with three white men. The plan now in vogue is said to be to take the Chinamen over in this way, when they get certificates at the custom house at Port Townsend and then return to this city. They can then use the certificates for passing too and fro. The Chinamen captured on Saturday had a hearing before U. S. Commissioner J. G. Swan, and being found illegally within the United States, were ordered to be returned to this city, which was accordingly done.

From the North.

The Barbara Boscowitz left for Port Simpson, Queen Charlotte Islands and way ports to-day at noon. The following passengers were on board: Rev Mr and Mrs Harrison, for Massett; Mr Pierce for Metlakahtla; Mr Isaacs, D Cunningham, Morrison, P Brennan, James Holmes, McArthur and others. The Metlakahtlah delegation to Ottawa also returned home, and the steamer [illegible] eight twenty-eight head of cattle for Graham island.

A BAD MAN.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

EARL CARNARVON is making a tour of the leading Irish towns. He travels without police escort.

NORTHERN Pacific earnings for July were $990,732, against $1,022,438 earned during the corresponding month of last year.

THE Persian envoy has handed to the Czar an autograph letter from the Shah with a magnificent gift for the Czarina.

A MOB official, LI USHU FUK, has been appointed as successor of MARQUIS TSENG, Chinese Minister to France.

MR. GEORGE V. N. LORIMER, the new United States Minister to Russia, has presented his credentials to the Czar.

IT is understood the HON. W. FORSTER, late Chief Secretary for Ireland, has definitely declined to visit Canada.

The transfer of the North Shore line to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company was formally agreed to yesterday by the Grand Trunk authorities.

THE annual guaranteed interest on the Canadian Pacific stock is three per cent, which means twelve per cent to those directors who obtained their stock at twenty-five cents on the dollar. The government only gives the hard working mechanic who deposits his savings in the post office bank four per cent.

RIEL's conviction and sentence has evidently had a depressing effect on those of his followers arraigned with him. They pleaded guilty with great unanimity, and saved the government and themselves the trouble and worry of a trial. Doubtless they hope thereby to secure more lenient treatment, and it is probable that they will get it.

MR. TREVELYAN, who was the Liberal Chancellor in the Duchy of Lancaster, MR. JOHN MORLEY, and a large number of other Radicals of their school have outlined a political platform, which they urge the Liberal party to adopt. It demands the disestablishment of the Church in England and Scotland, home rule for Ireland, and reform in the feudal land system. The Democratic Radicals accept this platform.

THE following extract from the Canadian Gazette (London) is commended to the attention of those who think the importation of pauper children into Canada a not unmixed blessing: "There is no prospect yet of exceeding the limit of Canada's power of absorption of young emigrants trained by the system recommended above. The sphere of work of this kind could be greatly enlarged, with advantage to all parties, were greater pecuniary support forthcoming." An alternative scheme for the relief of overcrowded English cities was proposed by MR. S. SMITH in the Imperial Parliament. He proposes to establish a system of compulsory industrial training in night schools for children of the destitute classes between the ages of twelve and sixteen, in order to fit them to earn their living either at home or in the colonies. This method of making material for emigration does not readily commend itself, and in comparison with it DR. BARNARDO's plan appears visionary and impracticable.

IT is not often, probably, that Lord Mayors, or, indeed, any mayors, occupy the pulpit. The present Lord Mayor of London has, however, had that experience. A few weeks ago, we learn from the Times, His Lordship preached at Brunswick Chapel, Great Dover street, Borough, on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of its foundation. The building in question, which belongs to the Methodist New Connexion, accommodates a pretty large congregation and, when the Lord Mayor delivered his sermon, it was about as full as it could be. The text was from the book of the prophet Jonah, and the discourse dealt with the strange career of that holy man. Describing the times in which Jonah lived and the circumstances in which he was placed and contrasting them with those of the present age, the preacher drew lessons from the comparison both for society and individuals. London is often compared with Babylon, and, no doubt, it might with equal justice, be likened to Nineveh, not only for its size but for its wickedness.

AND STILL THEY GROWL.

In view of the approaching completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway the eastern press is discussing the proqabilities of the traffic producing territory and possibility of Canada's national highway being able to secure a share of the Oriental trade. On this question, unfortunately for the best interests of our common country, the journals of both the political parties discuss the matter from different stand points; the interests of the country are made subservient to those of party, and the possibility therefore of obtaining an unbiased, calm opinion is out of the question. The other day the Toronto Mail in referring to the Suez canal wrote as a completion to the Canadian Pacific for the Oriental traffic asserted that the canal would continue to be the great highway between Britain and her Indian possessions by the water route, and that if the war office did send any business into the hands of the Canadian Pacific company, so much the better. "But," added the Mail "the principal source of revenue, the only source in fact worth speaking about, lies within Canada herself—in the vast wheat plains of the Northwest, in the timber lands, mines, and fisheries of British Columbia, and in the varied resources of Northern Ontario. The through trade from China and Japan will doubtless attain considerable proportions in time, but just at present the traffic carried to and from those countries by the American lines running to the Pacific is only a comparatively small fraction of their whole business. The Canadian Pacific, being the shortest transcontinental road, and the only one possessing independent access to both oceans, will at once take rank as a formidable competitor for Asistic trade, but its mainstay, as we have said, will be the freights grown and raised by Canadian hands on Canadian soil."

The correctness of the above none familiar with the country will deny. However the London Advertiser, edited by the HON. DAVID MILLS, for some time Minister of the Interior in the MACKENZIE administration, as might be expected, takes exception to the Mail's remarks and says: "The road must depend upon the population along the line for its support. What then are the chances for a profitable business between Calgary and New Westminster? A railway to facilitate settlement and to accommodate settlers is one thing. A road in advance of settlement is a very different thing. It is a mistake to suppose that every point along a long line of railway must necessarily at once be taken up. This was not done in the case of the first transcontinental road. Between Omaha and Salt Lake City hundreds of miles were for years without inhabitants. Immense stretches of country still remain without inhabitants. This ought to have taught our public men prudence. But they refused to give any heed to facts." It further asserts that the China and Japan trade of the American lines has no existence, that the products of these countries find their way to New York and even San Francisco by way of the Suez Canal Then it flies off at a tangent against the government, the Canadian Pacific Company, the people who support the government and revamps the old, old story of the tens of thousands and millions, supposed by it, to be thrown away. Party is everything with our London contemporary; its doctrine being support party first, and if in the wrong, accord it a double support. What cares it for the prosperity of Canada or the propogating of a feeling of national patriotism so long as for a target to its venomous shafts the Canadian Pacific railway is on the surface? But the Advertiser claims to be a truth-loving journal, aims in that respect to be a very puritan amongst its comtemporaries. Did it display a little of these qualities in discussing public matters, its opinions might have weight. When it asserts that between Calgary and New Westminster, in this province, the C. P. R. will have little or no traffic, it reveals its utter ignorance of a topic on which it supposes itself to be an oracle. From Calgary westward to Eagle Pass, there is a magnificent stretch of the finest timbered country in the whole Northwest, surpassing in value and extent the section known as the "debateable territory" between the Red River and Lake Superior, about which the Advertiser howls so much. Its wealth is not confined exclusively to timber, for in minerals it may yet prove to of immense value, surpassing even the rich mines of California or Australia. Then there is the "magnificent stretches"—no water ones—of fine arable land in our interior country, capable of sustaining a very large industrial and agricultural population, where already is to be found the nuclus to an "Inland Empire;" where thousands of head of stock are being raised, to say nothing of grains, &c. The Advertiser, as well as many of the rabid political party hacks in the east, should come west and ascertain the truth, then their opinions would be worthy of consideration and their statements received with credence. Their constituencies are but as nothing compared to the vastness of this great Northwest portion of the Dominion, in the development of which an advanced, enlightened, liberal and progressive policy is absolutely the main essential.

THE Dominion government have decided to send a collection of lumber and minerals to the Colonial Exhibition in London, in addition to the collection exhibited at Antwerp. PROF. SELWYN has been entrusted with the task of selecting the mineral exhibit, and a practical man will be chosen to supervise the lumber collection. It is to be hoped British Columbia will be amply represented. Hitherto the display sent from this province was of a very meagre character.

DYSPEPSIA.

Sedentary habits, mental worry, nervous excitement, excess or imprudence in eating or drinking, and various other causes, induce Constipation followed by general derangement of the liver, kidneys, and stomach, in which the disorder of each organ increases the infirmity of the others.

The immediate results are Loss of Appetite, Nausea, Foul Breath, Heartburn, Flatulence, Dizziness, Sick Headaches, failure of physical and mental vigor, distressing sense of weight and fullness in the stomach, and increased Costiveness, all of which are known under one head as Dyspepsia.

In every instance where this disease does not originate from scrofulous taint in the blood, AYER'S PILLS may be confidently relied upon to effect a cure. Those cases not amenable to the curative influence of AYER'S PILLS alone will certainly yield if the PILLS are aided by the powerful blood-purifying properties of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

Dyspeptics should know that the longer treatment of their malady is postponed, the more difficult of cure it becomes.

Ayer's Pills

Never fail to relieve the bowels and promote their healthful and regular action, and thus cure Dyspepsia. Temporary palliatives all do permanent harm. The fitful activity into which the enfeebled stomach is spurred by "bitters," and alcoholic stimulants, is invariably followed by reaction that leaves the organ weaker than before.

"Costiveness, induced by my sedentary habits of life, became chronic; AYER'S PILLS afforded me speedy relief. Their continued use has since kept me all right." BENJAMIN BRYDONE, Norwich, Ct.

"I was induced to try AYER'S PILLS as a remedy for Indigestion, Constipation, and Headache, from which I had long been a sufferer. I found their action easy, and obtained prompt relief. They have benefited me more than all the medicines ever before tried." M.V. WATSON, 139 State St., Chicago, Ill.

"They have entirely corrected the sluggish habit, and vastly improved my general health." REV. FRANCIS B. HARLOWE, Atlanta, Ga.

"The most effective and the easiest physic I have ever found. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain." W. L. FINZ, Richmond, Va.

"A sufferer from LIVER Complaint, Dyspepsia, and Neuralgia for the last twenty years, AYER'S PILLS have benefited me more than any medicine I have ever taken." P. H. ROGERS, Madisonv., Bruce Co., Ind.

"For Dyspepsia they are invaluable." J. T. HAYES, Reno, Texas.

CHEAPENING SUGAR.

Late Washington dispatches say that the American government is paying about twenty-five per cent more in drawbacks on refined sugar exported to Canada than is collected by the Canadian government in the form of duty on the same sugar. This may be hard on the Canadian refiner, but it is a good thing for the Canadian consumer. If the American government chooses to pay a tribute to the Canadian government equal to the amount of duty levied on refined sugar imported into Canada and to contribute in addition twenty-five per cent of that amount, to reduce the cost of our breakfast table it would be a pity to discourage it. The French government did precisely the same thing for the English sugar consumers and by flooding the country with beet root sugar not only injured the English sugar refiners but nearly ruined the English sugar growing colonies. If the American government pays a drawback or rather a bounty on sugar exported to Canada sufficient to neutralize not only the protection afforded our refiners by the duty on sugar, but the protection afforded by the cost of freight it must be making a very substantial contribution to our national wealth. As the object of Canada must be to make as much money as possible out of our import duties, perhaps the government will nicely adjust the tariff so as to secure a maximum contribution from our American cousins. Of course it would be a short sighted policy to allow sugar refining to be crushed out of Canadian industries.

THE article referred to in our cable dispatches of a few days since as appearing in the North German Gazette is of more significance than is generally supposed, for in it lies the fact that the Gazette is the organ through which BISMARCK generally unfolds his policy. One of its chief contributors, editorially, for years has been L. BUCHER, one of BISMARCK's most intimate friends. Every now and then the Gazette repeats the statement that France is preparing for revenge on Germany, and is innately hostile to that country. These publications are designed by BISMARCK to feel the pulse of the French people. When the French newspapers fire up and accuse BISMARCK of trying to stir up bad blood, and express themselves in a hostile manner, they are quoted at Berlin, and the Germans are called upon to behold what a pestiferous neighbor they have. The chancellor does not want his Germans to flag in their hostility toward France. What the organ says about French feeling is undoubtedly true; but the French know well enough that they are not yet in that fighting condition which would warrant them to hazard a war with their old foes over the Vosges mountains. Since 1871 they have spent millions on frontier fortifications and on the army, and they are very much better prepared than was LOUIS NAPOLEON when he gave the order, "On to Berlin," and took the DUKE OF GRAMONT's word that the army was in good condition. They are wiser now and know what a fighting machine Germany has. For fifteen years they have been trying to produce a machine like it.

THE government have decided to allow distillers permission to remove spirits in quantities not less than ten gallons from their distilleries into counties where the Scott Act is in force. This does not interfere with the enforcement of the Act.

IT is reported that SIR DAVID MACPHERSON is likely to become Canadian High Commissioner at the Court of St. James in place of SIR CHARLES TUPPER, whom report assigns to the future premiership and Ministry of Finance.

The curative power of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is too well known to require the spurious aid of any exaggerated or fictitious certificate. Witnesses of its marvelous cures are to-day living in every city and hamlet of the land. Write for them if you want home evidence.

CONTENTMENT.

(Express Field in Chicago News.)

Once on a time an old red hen
Went strutting around with pompous airs,
For she had little to have an,
A pen of which were tiny ducks,
"To very rare that hen," said she,
"Have lazy ducks as well as chicks—
But I'm sure, as you can see,
Of chickens four and ducklings six!"

A season later, this old hen
Appeared, still cackling of her luck,
For, though the hatched babies ten,
Not one among them was a duck!
"'Tis well," she murmured, brooding o'er
The little chicks of downy down—
"My babies now will stay ashore,
And, consequently, cannot drown!"

The following spring the old red hen
Clucked just as proudly as of yore—
But ho! her babes were ducklings ten,
Instead of chickens, as before!
"'Tis better," said the old red hen,
As she surveyed her waddling brood;
"A little water now and then
Will surely do my darlings good!"

But oh! alas, how very sad!
When gentle spring rolled 'round again
The eggs eventuated bad,
And children was the old red hen!
Yet patiently she bore her woe
And still she wore a cheerful air,
And said: "'Tis best these things are so,
For babies are a dreadful care!"

I half suspect that many men,
And many, many women, too,
Could learn a lesson from the hen
With foliage of vermillion hue;
She never presumed to take offense
At any fate that might befall,
But meekly bowed to Providence—
She was contented—that was all!

EXPLANATION OF VACCINATION.

How the Process Works in the Human System Subjected to Virus.

(Professor Tyndall in Popular Science Monthly.)

Pasteur had little difficulty in establishing the parasitic origin of fowl cholera; indeed, the parasite had been observed by others before him. But by his successive cultivations he rendered the solution sure. His next step will remain forever memorable in the history of medicine. I allude to what he calls "virus attenuation." And here it may be well to throw out a few remarks in advance. When a tree or a bundle of wheat or barley straw is burned, a certain amount of mineral matter remains in the ashes—extremely small in comparison with the bulk of the tree or of the straw, but absolutely essential to its growth. In a soil lacking or exhausted of the necessary mineral constituents, the tree cannot live, the crop cannot grow.

Now, contagia are living things, which demand certain elements of life just as inexorably as trees or wheat or barley; and it is not difficult to see that a crop of a given parasite may so far use up a constituent existing in small quantities in the body, but essential to the growth of the parasite, as to render the body unfit for the production of a second crop. The soil is exhausted, and until the lost constituent is restored, the body is protected from any further attack of the same disorder.

Such an explanation of non-recurrent diseases naturally presents itself to a thorough believer in the germ theory, and such was the solution which, in reply to a question, I ventured to offer nearly fifteen years ago to an eminent London physician. To exhaust the soil, however, a parasite less vigorous and destructive than the really virulent one may suffice; and if, after having by means of a feebler organism, exhausted the soil, without fatal result, the most highly virulent parasite be introduced into the system it will prove innocuous. This is the language of the germ theory, is the whole secret of vaccination.

Just Getting Ready.

(Wall Street News.)

A New Yorker, who was prospecting in Michigan last fall, came across the manager of a saw-mill and bowl factory combined, and naturally asked him how business was.

"Well, pretty fairish," was the reply.

"Is debt any?"

"Well, there's a mortgage on the saw-mill."

"Yes?"

"And we had to mortgage the bowl factory to pay the interest on the other."

"I see."

"And I believe there's a lien of some sort on the dam."

"Ah!"

"And the man who built the mill-race has a judgment of $320 against us."

"Anything more?"

"Well, the sheriff levied on all our sawlogs yesterday."

"And then you are pretty nearly wound up?"

"Wound up! Why, my dear man, you don't know us western people! That's the way we always get ready to begin solid business."

What a Shoe-Dealer Says.

(Chicago News.)

The American women have the finest-shaped and smallest feet of any nationality. The conformation of the American female foot is nearly round, with no arched instep. There are very few flat-footed American women. The German, Scandinavian, Irish, and English women seldom have other than broad, flat feet. French women often have fine feet, especially those from the localities which were invaded by the Saracens and where there exists a mingling of the Saracen blood. The French women from the mountain districts are apt to have the characteristic mountain foot—strong, broad, and flat from much use.

A Valuable Cement.

(Scientific American.)

A French authority gives the following receipt for a permanent cement which resists great tensility and has not the slightest yellow tinge: Mix in a well-stoppered bottle 10 drams of chloroform, with 10½ drams of non-vulcanized caoutchouc cut in small pieces. Solution is readily effected, and when it is completed add 3½ drams of mastic. Let the whole macerate for about ten days without the application of any heat, and shake the contents of the bottle at intervals. A perfectly white and very adhesive cement is the result.

Advertising Cheats!!!

"It has become so common to begin an article, in an elegant, interesting style,

And simply call attention to the merits of Hop Bitters in as plain, honest terms as possible,

"To induce people

"To give them one trial, which so proves their value that they will never use anything else."

"The Remedy so favorably noticed in all the papers,

Religious and secular, is

"Having a large sale, and is supplanting all other medicines.

"There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant, and the proprietors of Hop Bitters have shown great shrewdness and ability. * * *

"In compounding a medicine whose virtues are so palpable to every one's observation."

Did She Die?

"No!

"She lingered and suffered along, pining away all the time for years."

"The doctors doing her no good."

"And at last was cured by this Hop Bitters the papers say so much about;"

"Indeed! Indeed!"

"How thankful we should be for that medicine."

A Daughter's Misery.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery.

"From a complication of kidney, liver, rheumatic trouble and Nervous debility,

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—The steamer Western Slope will leave for Burrard Inlet to-night.

—The Hope will leave for Qualicum river, forty miles above Nanaimo, to-morrow morning at 6 o'clock.

—Mr. Appovel, architect, has been slightly indisposed for a few days, but is again about as lively and energetic as ever.

—Theater Comique will be closed until further notice. A new troupe is coming, and due notice of the re-opening will be given.

—The Wellington is due to-morrow from San Francisco. She brings a locomotive for the Island railway.

—The laundry run ostensibly by white labor on Esquimalt road has failed. Chinamen were employed.

—The ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new Methodist Church on the Gorge Road will take place on the afternoon of Thursday, the 13th instant.

—Mr. W. H. Mixer, manager of the Truck and Dray Company, has our congratulations. The little stranger is a boy; he arrived yesterday morning.

—Mr. E. B. Osler, Q. C., and wife, Messrs. Robinson, Cameron, and Lemieux after the Regina rebellion trials terminated took a trip to the end of the track before returning eastwards.

—Mr. Wm. Halpenny, Government Guide, will leave for Alberni to-morrow morning, by way of Nanaimo and Qualicum. Parties in search of land should arrange to-night to accompany Mr. H.

—The Barbara Boscowitz took up a band of young cattle for Mr. R. Holt's ranch on Graham Island, of the Queen Charlotte group. The cattle placed there two years ago have thrived well.

—C. D. Rand has resumed business and has taken an office on Bastion street over Dr. Chipp's where he will carry on business as a real estate broker and insurance agent.

—The following land-hunters will accompany Mr. Halpenny to Alberni to-morrow: F. A. Edner, E. Clarke, M. Ward, Wm. McMyn, and Wm. Neilands. Others wishing to go can join the party to-night or to-morrow morning.

—The annual missionary meeting of the Methodist Church will be held in the body of the church next Thursday evening when addresses will be delivered by Rev. Dr. Sutherland, and ex-Alderman Moore, of Toronto. A cordial invitation is extended to all. The collection will be in aid of the missionary fund.

—Messrs. Coulter and Wells, prominent Portland gentlemen, and large real estate owners in Port Moody, were at the latter place last week, accompanied by their wives. They are well pleased with their investments. Dr. Clarke, of Portland, also a heavy property owner, was also expected to pay Port Moody a visit.

—An Indian chief of British Columbia has been awarded a gold medal by the President of the United States, in addition to a gift of two hundred dollars to be divided among his tribe, for their humanity in burying the crew of the Melville, drowned by the wreck of that vessel in October, 1882.

The Geo. E. Starr brought freight for: Wm Tinson, Hirst Bros, W A Coburn, G Belverlockway, N Equitable, M A, Anderson & A, Fell & Co, H Saunders, Hudson Bay Co, A Burns, J Whitfield, H Tilton, S J Pitts, Hutcheson, T & Co, J A Colin & Co, C Strauss & Co, D Spencer, Turner, Beeton & Co, A Cowan, M Lenz, Albion Iron Works, O H Thorndike.

—The item in the Standard of this morning in reference to the white labor laundry, on the Esquimalt road, is not quite correct. Mr. Barnard has made a seizure under default in the chattel mortgage. Mrs. Martin claims that she is able to pay her indebtedness, and is now collecting her outstanding accounts with that object in view. It is Mrs. Martin's intention to resume business at once in the old stand.

—Winnipeg Free Press: Messrs. Watt and McDonald, two Prince Edward Islanders, who have just returned from Oregon and British Columbia, where they were looking for land to settle on, have gone to the Red Deer Company's lands, where they inform Mr. Peterson they think the best land in the country is situated. They say a number of British Columbians are only waiting for the railway to get through to come to Alberta to settle.

—The Police Court was occupied all forenoon with the Chinese case of Ah Ling vs. Ma Koe, Mr. Vrooman acting as interpreter, and Messrs. Walls and Wilson watching and directing the proceedings for their respective clients. It seems to be one of those interminable wrangles that are so particularly annoying and probably never will have an end. But the S. M. is blessed with a Job-like patience, and sits and thinks, and smiles and winks, with imperturbable serenity.

—Mr. E. Hardman, mechanical engineer, has left Montreal for the Rocky mountains. He acts as the agent of Mr. McLeod, Stewart & Co., of Ottawa, and goes to test the anthracite coal, of which there are five or six seams in the mountains, in the eastern section of this province. The Canadian Pacific Railway company have furnished him facilities for bringing on from fifteen to twenty tons to test. He claims that the coal is as fine as any on the continent.

—Large crowds of men are returning to Winnipeg from the Rockies, being unable to find employment there. They are from Eau Claire, Wis., and denounce Mr. Norens, who brought them up, in no measured terms for not (as they allege) fulfilling his promises to them. They were told they would be able to earn from $2 to $4 per day, and many left their situations to go west. Since their arrival in the city they have been offered employment by Wallow & Co. at $1.40 per day, on the Southwestern of Manitoba.

Work on the Streets.

The corporation has now got the necessary amount of rock blasted to metal about four miles of streets, and it will be spread where it is most required during the balance of the season, at the rate of sixty lineal yards per day. At present the roadway between the brickyard and Finlayson's bridge, is being thoroughly macadamized, so that the heaviest traffic may pass over it. Eight inches of macadam is being laid to an average width of thirty feet, finishing off with gravel. Jumbo is employed steadily rolling down the macadam as it is being laid, and an excellent, hard and smooth road bed is thus being made. Yesterday ninety-seven loads, each averaging nineteen cubic feet, were delivered from the crusher, which shows the large quantity that it is possible to crush and deliver on the roads. Eight men, three carts and Jumbo all directed by Mr. Water-works Engineer Headry, perform the work, at a cost, including one ton of coal per day for the two engines, of fifty dollars. It is intended to put the road in the outer wharf in a similar condition, as well as several other streets in the city.

The Brantford Binder.

The readers attention is directed to the advertisement of Burns & Co. The Brantford binder is one of the most successful and most popular self-binding harvesters in use, and in the eastern provinces, and especially in the middle prairie region, the "Brantford" is in general use among the largest grain growers. It has gained its popularity because of its strength and durability, combined with lightness, ease in working, smoothness of cut and the perfect sheaf it forms. Burns & Co. know that their machine was tampered with, and it is to be hoped, for the sake of fairness to all concerned, that the perpetrators of the deed will be found out and punished. The challenge of Messrs. Burns & Co. will probably bring on another contest, and there is a very general desire among the farmers present at Saturday's trial, that another should occur, as many of them are still in doubt as to which machine they should purchase.

The Gallick Case.

Johnson & McGurl vs. Gallick and wife; Pedigrift claimant. The plaintiffs in this case obtained judgment against the defendant and his wife. Execution issued and the Sheriff took possession of the Queen boot store. On taking possession, Mr. Pedigrift gave notice that he had purchased the stock in the shop from Mrs. Gallick, the husband having consented to the sale. Mr. S. P. Mills, counsel for the Sheriff, on Saturday, August 1st, applied for an interpleader summons to try the issue as to whether Johnson & McGurl were entitled to have execution out of the boot store, or whether Pedigrift was the owner of the property. Mr. Taylor appeared for the claimant Pedigrift, and argued that Pedigrift was the owner by virtue of an absolute bill of sale from the Mrs. Gallick and a bargain and sale from Gallick. Mr. Theodore Davie appeared for the execution creditors, and raised several legal points, arguing that Mrs. Gallick was not owner of the property, and that Gallick only could give title. In the absence of the judge, Mr. Combs, the registrar, read the decision of the judge to the effect that Pendigrift was the owner of the goods.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

"Many Canadians" Answered.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—At last some one has been found bold enough to take up the cudgels on behalf of the Victoria school trustees. While thanking "Many Canadians" for the advice that "it is as well that this affair should end right here," I would just ask why "M. C." has not answered the inquiries set forth in my first? I asked what special recommendation is held by Miss Armstrong which is thought sufficient by the board of trustees to out-balance higher qualifications and years of faithful service? "M. C." and the trustees themselves are strangely silent on this question, which is at present engaging the public mind. "M. C.," like many amateurs rushing into print, takes abuse for argument. I am called first "a proud bird," then "a frisky gladiator." Thanks, Canadians, for the compliment! I am, indeed, a bird proud of my nest. A British Columbian, I glory in British Columbia! At the same time, I must confess, I blush for the unpatriotic spirit evinced by our educational authorities, in ignoring the claims to preferment put forth by those teachers whose sole aim has been, and will be, in the interest and for the good of Victoria, and in placing at their head a stranger with inferior qualifications. But what, in the name of all that is sensible, does M. C. mean by the words "frisky gladiator?" I am accused of "hurling about oratory in a fancy style," but modesty compels me, in that respect, to award M. C. the palm. Another error, common to those of his ilk, has been committed by M. C. He should, before coming forward in defence of any cause, make himself familiar with the facts of the case. Had he done so I would be spared the painful necessity of setting him straight. I must agree with M. C. that "there is a vast difference between sitting down to an unanticipated examination, and to one on which the candidate has studied up." But I must contend that the advantage was all on Miss Armstrong's side. That lady, did not, as we are told, sit down to an unanticipated examination, on the contrary, for weeks previous she studied in New Westminster under Mr. Stramberg. Wise was she to choose for her coach an ex-examiner of teachers,—one who could, no doubt, post her to perfection; and being himself on the inside track, drop many an available hint, of which she would not be slow to take advantage. M. C. would try our faith too far when he asks us to admit that this young lady, although granted only a second class A by the Board of Examiners, could "very likely have taken a far higher certificate in other subjects." Why then, was she not granted a first class B certificate—the papers of which grade she attempted? Would have been more satisfactory all round, instead of thus hiding her talents under a bushel. This M. C. quotes from my last as the key-note of what he is pleased to call my tirade, this sentiment: "The Victoria school teachers who have been born, brought up, and educated in the province, demand as their birth-right," and there, just where the point comes in, he abruptly breaks off. Now let us see what was the unreasonable privilege demanded for the Victoria teachers. I refer to my former letter and finish the passage thus: "The privilege, AT LEAST, when an opening presents itself, to stand on the same level with competitors from the outside." Why, M.C. did you not finish your quotation? Can you or anyone else call my demand an unreasonable or unfair one? Again, a conscientious teacher, allow me to inform you Canadians, scarcely looks upon teaching in the light of a "soft job," as you are pleased to call it. I will give our teachers credit for a higher idea of their chosen profession. Next we are coolly informed that Ontario and Quebec built the C. P. R., and we are to understand, I suppose, built it unselfishly and out of pure generosity? Why, British Columbia paid last year alone to the Canadian government nearly one million dollars. Where did that go? Another amusing idea is set forth. Eastern Canadians, forsooth, are said to bring out money and build up the country. Canadians did neither bring out, nor send out, one cent of our public school money. On what do they base their claims to a share of it? Our schools are kept up by our citizens. They, and they alone, have the right to say how this money shall be spent.

I would most respectfully ask what insult has been offered to Miss Armstrong? It is the "Many Canadians" themselves who would make a personal matter of it. The public objection is not to the lady herself but to the unpopular principle of preferring strangers, with inferior qualifications, to our own people. Before closing this discussion with M. C., I would like you to satisfy me on one point. 1st. Is it possible for you to disclose the identity of this "weakest (missing?) link upon which Miss Armstrong has to depend?" 2nd. Will you kindly elucidate the hidden meaning in this, no doubt erudite, but most incomprehensible, un-English sentence: "The contemptible greediness with which some people grasp at bones, shadows, and all within reach may be part of the provincial heriditaments!" I confess it is beyond me. There seems at first to be a delicate allusion to body-snatching, but, no doubt, you will be good enough to make it all plain. In conclusion allow me to reiterate your own warning, "the future is full of surprises." Trustees, when standing for re-election will, doubtless, find their electors are not to be put off with the answer you give—"those who know, know better—the rest know no more than 'Home First,'" when asked why they elected this unknown Miss Armstrong to the most important scholastic position held by any lady in British Columbia. HOME FIRST.

THE OPINION OF ONE OF THE JUDGES:

August 5, 1885.

MESSRS. BURNS & CO.:

It is my opinion that had the Brantford Binder not met with an accident it would have been awarded the prize, as its cutting it did well and be best, and the sheaves were all that could be desired.

Yours truly,

HENRY SIMPSON,

Seaside.

OPINION OF FARMERS PRESENT AT CONTEST:

August 5, 1885.

MESSRS. BURNS & CO.:

We, the undersigned, were present at the Binder contest at Cedar Hill, and we consider that the Brantford Binder cut the cleanest and made the sheaves more upright and tighter bound than any Binder present.

JOHN SLUGGETT,
LOUIS DUVAL.

TESTIMONIALS FROM MAINLAND FARMERS:

I purchased from you this season a Brantford # 9, cut Binder through your agents, Burns & Co., Victoria, B. C., and I must say that I am highly pleased with it. I cut 100 acres of grain with it, some of which was badly down, and I don't think a better job could have been made. The sheaves were all well bound, and I take great pleasure in recommending it to all who intend purchasing a Binder.

WM. MORRISON,
Rio Mil Ranche, B. C.

We have much pleasure in stating that the Brantford Binder we bought from you last season gave us general satisfaction. We cut 150 acres of grain with it, cutting from 40 to 50 acres per day. The machine worked very smoothly throughout, and its down grain fairly surprised us. We would not be without one now, and would recommend it to any those who want to save time and money in cutting and binding their crop.

DUNN BROS.,
Langley Prairie, P. O., B. C.

I purchased from you this season through your agents, Burns & Co., a Little Brantford Binder, and after cutting 40 acres of wheat, barley and oats, consider that it fills the bill in every respect as you represented it. It has far surpassed my expectations.

JAS. ROSS,
South Thompson River, B. C.

I cut about 100 acres with my Brantford Binder this season. I am very well pleased with the machine. Some people think it will not pick up lodged grain, but I can pick up and cut with my machine any grain that a Reaper will.
